Dairymen To Visit Dairy Farm At The University, August 19

"Dairymen's day at the University of Illinois dairy farm will be held August 19, for Cook County Dairy Farmers", states Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes.

"Arrangements have been made for a trip to Champaign, 150 miles south and return, leaving the Farm Bureau at Arlington Heights at 6 AM. The total cost of transportation will not be more than $3.00 per passenger.

"Some farmers wives have expressed an interest in attending and it is okay and reservations may be made at either office at Arlington Heights or Blue Island. The bus will stop at Martin's Implement Company on US. 45 and 143rd St., just east of Orland Park, to pick up south side farmers. Parking space will be provided there for the cars.

"Arriving at the University around 10:30, we will start with a trip to the old Morrow plots that have been under experimental observation for three quarters of a century. It happens that all of these plots are in corn this year with one exception. It is worth the trip to Champaign just to have the opportunity to see these Morrow plots alone.

"Driving thru the south farm, to get an idea of the layout of the experiment station, farmers and their wives will return to the Union Building for lunch and go directly to the dairy farm south east to Champaign, where a special program is being arranged by Prof. W. W. Yapp, of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. In this afternoon program Prof. Yapp will show representatives of the various breeds at the University and explain the procedure that have taken in breeding to produce the high strains that they have in these dairy herds.

"Also Prof. Nevens will outline the system used on the dairy farm for making hay and getting a good quality of hay, and their pasture system, and the plan of feeding the dairy herd to get maximum production. An exhibit and discussion of hay making machinery will also be a part of this day's program.

"The return trip to Cook County will start not later than 4 o'clock and reservations must be in plenty of time to make arrangements with the bus companies that will haul the dairy men."

W. W. Kester Of Tinley Park Speaks To Hyde Park Lions

"What a Businessman Can Learn From Henry George" was the subject of an unusual talk given by W. W. Kester of Tinley Park to the Hyde Park Lions Club in the Windemere East Hotel Tuesday, July 30. The talk was sponsored by the Henry George School of Social Science, from which Mr. Kester graduated last fall and in which he is now a volunteer instructor. His subject was inspired by the radio series, "What Labor Can Learn From Henry George", which was concluded on station WCFL last Friday night.

Mr. Kester recommended Henry George's writings to anyone who sought an understanding of fundamental economic principles. The study of economics, he said, demonstrates that free competition, shorn of law fostered monopolies, could be a tremendous stimulation to production.

For its fall term, opening September 30, the Henry George School is planning 200 free classes in fundamental economics throughout Chicago and the suburbs. The classes will be conducted by round table discussion and will be tuition free, due to the financial support of the school's graduates, who feel that a widespread understanding of fundamental economic principles is essential for a solution of current social problems.

Tractor Cut In Half By Auto Accident On Lincoln Highway

A freak automobile accident occurred 2½ miles east of New Lenox, on Lincoln Highway, last Thursday afternoon, when Carl Friant of New Lenox was pulling a small farm wagon full of oats, with a tractor and was west bound.

As Friant was attempting to make a left turn into his farmyard, Mr. Wm. Knaus, 25, of Alberta Province, Saskatchewan, Canada who was driving east struck the tractor in the center severing it in two parts. Mr. Knaus stated that Friant turned in front of him and that he was unable to go around the tractor and wagon. The impact threw Mr. Friant 17 feet in the air, landing on the running board of the Knaus car. Friant claimed he was unhurt.

Miss Hester Reid and Robert Beattie in the Knaus car were injured and required first aid treatment. They were taken to the office of Dr. M. J. Buckley at Frankfort where Miss Reid was found to have a gash over the left eye and Beattie was cut on the face and finger.

Damages to the tractor was estimated at $800. When Friant learned that Knaus had no insurance he tried to get a judgment against him in the court of Justice of Peace, Melvin Whitaker in New Lenox. After hearing the case, the Justice of the Peace informed Friant he was without jurisdiction in the matter. Sheriff's deputies were called to the scene to help settle the dispute.

Flags To Be Flown On V-J Anniversary

Under some circumstances, a year is a long time, and under other conditions, it is a short period. Thus it is when we look back a year from next Wednesday it does not seem that long when war ended, that is when the atom bomb brought surrender of the Japanese nation.

Before that we were all worried because of our boys being in the mist of conflict. Now they are home, fighting has stopped and we are going about almost as usual before war started five years ago. Then we were all ready to do everything possible to aid the ending of the conflict, to bring peace to our nation; to aid our boys who were in the armed forces.

Now we are battling to a certain extent, high prices, scarcity of food, material, strikes, which prevent needed material to be on the market; and many unjust and unreasonable rules, regulations, etc. If we would exert our thoughts, our efforts in overcoming some of these unjustness, with the same energy as we did during the conflict in behalf of our boys, might not affairs in our country be somewhat different?

Some are saying, wait until election time, then we will speak, but will we? Will we again say as before, "Oh well, why should we worry, I'm getting a good compensation, subsidy etc., and not turning a hand, so why spoil a good thing?" But if we don't exert ourselves, no help will come to us, for "God only helps us when we help ourselves."

After all war has not been ended officially until Congress makes that statement. Americans are urged by the American Legion this year to fly their flags August 14 to celebrate the final victory in the great war, but there is no ruling on that as yet.

It might be a good gesture on our part to fly our flag next Wednesday as an expression of thankfulness that conflict is ended, and that it may never come to that point of affairs again.

NOTICE—RUBBISH ON STREETS

Again we are asking the citizens of the Village of Mokena to refrain from burning or depositing rubbish or garbage on our village streets.

With garbage pick up service available there is no reason why this practice shall continue.

The Village Board by this notice expects all offenders to abide by this order within a reasonable length of time.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Several complaints have come into the village Board that Stones or rocks placed along the streets for marking or lining a driveway by the property owners are proving to be a hazard.

This is especially true on narrow streets when two cars must pass and there is the danger of hitting the rocks which may cause serious injury and damage to the car.

The Village requests that the rocks or stones be removed from the streets as they do not want to be held liable.

Injured While Pulling Down Tree Limb

On Thursday evening about 6 pm., Ray Estand, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Estand of Orland Park was cutting a limb from a tree in the yard of their home. His mother was holding a rope which was tied to the limb and tried to pull the limb free, she gave a good hard jerk, the rope snapped and threw Mrs. Estand several feet from where she stood and landed on her left hand in the hills of the valley patch. Dr. Leavitt was called and had to set three fingers which had turned backwards. Her wrist was fractured and had to be placed in a cast. Although very painful, Mrs. Estand is able to be up and around.

Representative Of Lighting Companies Attend Board Meeting

At the village board meeting in Mokena Tuesday evening representatives were present from General Electric company and Westinghouse Company with their samples of steel lighting equipment for the Board to consider. Up to that night the Village Board had not yet decided upon which equipment they would choose.

Also at the Board meeting that evening it was reported that the rubbish and garbage service rendered by Mr. Joe Heim of Mokena, is a great improvement and a benefit to the village.

The Board recommended that every one should avail themselves of this opportunity to use the service of Mr. Heim and in that way help to keep the village clean and in a healthy condition, especially as polio epidemic seems to be spreading.

Mr. Heim furnishes a pickup service each week for regular customers at a reasonable fee. It is quite possible that with this service, the annual Spring Cleanup of rubbish may be eliminated.

J. G. Rogers, superintendent of Orland Public schools, has his visitation program well under way in Orland school district.

He will continue the visitation in an effort to meet as many as possible before September.

COOKING QUEEN . . . Dorothea Fagnano, 15, Yonkers, N. Y., school-girl, samples some of her own cookies following her selection as cooking queen. She disclosed that she now is working on a new recipe for making bread without flour—a tall order for a teen-ager, but not too hard for Dorothea, who recently captured first prize in a competition which attracted entrants from 512 cities. Miss Fagnano is experimenting with potato flour as a basic ingredient for her new flourless bread.

PEACE ON EARTH . . . As Old Glory was lowered in the gathering dusk of V-J Day, 1945, a marine kneels in silent prayer beside the grave of a comrade in the cemetery on Okinawa. Peace came for him after the war as it came for many on the battlefields. Insert shows Air Vice Marshall Iselt, New Zealand, as he signs the surrender aboard the USS Missouri in Tokyo bay, while General MacArthur looks on. One year later, on August 14, all the world will honor those who willingly gave their lives that their's might live in peace. While V-J Day marked the end of the war, hundreds of thousands of veterans are still on active duty, finishing their job to see that war never lifts its head in the world. The nation honors all who contributed to success of the war against Japan, many who formerly fought against Germany.

H. C. L. AFTER TWO WARS . . . Following the trend of the cost of living in the United States after World Wars I and II, economists point out that in 1918 and 1919 prices rose spectacularly. Cost of commodities took but slight rises after World War II because of government price controls. Following demise of OPA, prices rose sharply on some staples and articles. This chart compares increases after both wars. It is based on the U. S. bureau of labor statistics' consumers' price index and covers 200 goods and services in 34 large cities throughout the country.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear brother Alan, who passed away one year ago August 10, 1945:

I can not forget you brother, You're all the world to me, I cannot forget you brother You're living in memory.

He was such a pal, Such a wonderful Al, An angel sent from heaven to me. To some he may seem dead, But to us he has just gone on ahead.

As sweet and pure as any flower may be, Only a few short years he lived, And now resting peacefully in eternity. May God be with you until we meet again.

WALTER and MARY ROESNER, SISTER AND BROTHER

V-J DAY 1 . . . V-J DAY 2—PEACE IN OUR DAY

On August 14, 1946, the world will look back on a year of freedom from global war. It has been a critical and dramatic year, in many senses more critical and dramatic than the horrendous years that preceded it. The United States, together with other nations, has spent the past twelve months struggling to set its feet back on the highway to peace and security. It cannot engage in this struggle without the deeply-etched reminiscences of the dark and bloody times that were encompassed by Pearl Harbor and Okinawa.

THERE WAS MORTAR FIRE on the black beaches of Iwo Jima, and death, for the Marine (left), his face plunged deep into the volcanic sand. This August, 1945, Iwo and many of its grim sister islands of the Pacific are silent monuments to American valor and sacrifice. On the white beaches of the United States the sailor, soldier, or veteran can peer into the glow of his outdoor hearth (right), remembering, but alive and at home again.

FARM folks should consider electricity that "extra hired hand" necessary to do a job, according to an article in nationally circulated Capper's Farmer by E. H. Smith of Kansas State College.

"Electricity is an efficient worker that operates milking machines, runs ventilating fans, heats hotbeds, supplies power for electric clippers, dries the women's hair, delivers water to the stanchion cups, water tanks, sinks and bathtubs and runs the corn sheller and drill press—all at an amazingly low cost," says the article in the magazine read by 1,250,000 farm families.

"The future holds a hundred other uses for electricity on the farm. So the smart owner, when he puts in electric service, will insist on a wiring job that will not only take care of present needs but will serve equipment and appliances he is likely to have 5 or 10 years from now.

"Nowhere in the house is the need for convenience outlets so great as in the kitchen. Shown above is a double convenience outlet at counter or working height—an important item from the standpoint of use. Locate the outlets in the work areas and have plenty so it will not be necessary to take the electric clock plug to use the electric mixer, coffee maker or waffle irons. Some homemakers like an outlet near the breakfast or dining table for the toaster. Conveniently located outlets should be provided for the home freezer and refrigerator."

Seek Meat-Type Chickens

Illinois-grown chickens will be bigger in the future if Clarence Ems, (right), Illinois State Department of Agriculture, and Cecil Roberts, Mississippi State College, have their way. They are inspecting painting of ideal Chicken-of-Tomorrow for which A&P Food Stores offers $5,000 award in a three-year breeding contest. The men are pictured at recent International Baby Chick meeting in St. Louis, which was attended by over 6,000 poultrymen.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

MAJOR UNDERTAKING—As highlight of its year's activities the Youth Council of Richfield Springs, N. Y., annually stages an I Am an American program. The above picture shows members of the high school orchestra and a vocalist participating in the program.

IN THESE UNITED STATES

Youth Council Sets Pace In Developing N.Y. Town

By E. L. KIRKPATRICK

WNU Features

A town with a past can live in the present and look to the future, say young people of Richfield Springs, upstate New York center with 1,200 population. This is the consensus of the town's Youth council, started more than three years ago from a panel discussion on "Young People's Present Day Problems."

Some of the charter members as well as their followers were out-of-school young people. On the present membership list are the names of a beautician, bookkeeper, clerk, farmer, housewife, laboratory technician, machinist, secretary, school custodian, telephone operator, stenographer, and typesetter, so "everybody gets in and pitches or helps play the field. Each works where he fits and is most needed."

Stage Annual Program.

Chief activity is I Am an American Day program staged annually under the council's direction. Use is made of school band and chorus, American Legion, church groups, town board and boys' and girls' clubs. Highlights of this year's program were demonstrations by Cub, Boy and Girl Scouts, remarks by a new voter and an address by one of the town's ministers.

This youth group tackles other things as the months come and go. They "dig a bit into the annals of history" for indication of what's happened to Richfield Springs, which in the Gay Nineties was New York State's most popular spa because of the healing powers of its sulphur spring waters. "Then, we had hotels filled with visitors, livery stables of fine horses and all kinds of carriages that outshone most cars in today's modern garages," an old-timer recalls.

Varied Projects.

"So," the group asks, "what can we do about what's left with us?" They consider how to clean and make use of deserted hotels and other buildings, explore the needs and possibilities of local industries such as cannery and dairy.

Outstanding project is a forum to study the creation of good citizenship to world affairs. This reaches 150 youth and adults who meet weekly during the winter to formulate questions and work out unbiased answers to them.

Under direction of the council sponsor and the high school social science teacher it has quickened initiative, developed new viewpoints, broadened horizons and brought needed co-operation in definite community projects. One of these was a financial success and a concrete demonstration of how folks can and will work together. Another was the realization of $1,000 through contributions and a community dance for Christmas boxes and gifts to 200 hometown men and women in the service.

List Accomplishments.

To prove that other communities can "do as well as ours," Youth Council members explain that in their farming section of cash cropping, dairying and poultry raising, a dairy manufacturing plant, two fishing tackle factories and a sports wear mill have been established as a result partially of their interest and agitation.

As war clouds lift, the council proposes to improve facilities for tourists at nearby Canadara lake, which offers boating, fishing and swimming in summer and skating in winter.

"While we are planning for things ahead, we are doing more real living in the present with due respect to the past for cornerstones to build on," say Richfield Springs young people.

Texas Politicians Slow in Own Towns

TAYLOR, TEXAS.—Two Williamson county politicians, Mr. A. and Mr. B., are running against each other. Mr. A. went to Mr. B.'s hometown and reported jubilantly that he had contacted 100 voters and that 90 of them promised to vote for him.

Mr. B. then visited Mr. A.'s hometown and reported with deep satisfaction that he had talked to 100 people and that 90 of them had indicated they would definitely vote for him.

BIG CHEESE TO "BIG CHEESE"—Wisconsin's dairy queen, Catherine Mueller, 21, of Lake, Wis., presents Selden F. Waldo, newly elected president of U. S. junior chamber of commerce, with the first Wisconsin natural rindless cheddar (American) cheese ever offered the public at national Jaycee convention in Milwaukee. Heralded as major development in dairy industry, the cheese does not form a hard crust when cut, has no rind and possesses a texture of processed cheese with all the flavor of natural cheese. Waldo is municipal judge of Gainesville, Fla. To the left is Henry Kearns of Pasadena, Calif., outgoing Jaycee national president.

2-Year-Old Child Has Unusual Vocabulary

CRANSTON R. I.—Guests at the home of Thomas Stabile are amazed when they are greeted by his two-year-old daughter Donna Jean who calmly inquires about their comfort and continues to carry on a lively conversation.

Psychologists who have examined the pert blonde child agree that her rapidly expanding vocabulary is highly unusual for her age. Donna Jean uses 400 words in complete sentences whereas average vocabulary for two-year-olds ranges from 60 to 200 words.

In checkers which is her favorite game of wits Donna Jean already has learned a self-appealing trick. Because she always gets beaten when she plays with her father Donna Jean has contrived a game she plays with her doll. Asked who wins in the contest she invariably replies: "I do, of course."

Veterans' SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Look Out for 'Slickers'

The war department is warning relatives of servicemen killed in action against spurious promises of slick promoters to "expedite return to this country of bodies of deceased veterans." The war department handles the whole matter and there is nothing any one, but an official of that agency, can do to help any relatives in this matter.

On the question of which relative has the final say about disposition of a body of a soldier killed overseas the war department recognizes wishes of kin in the following order:

If the deceased was married, the widow has the preference, but she must not have been divorced or legally separated from him at the time of his death and she must not have since remarried. If the wife has remarried or been divorced, the preference passes to the sons if they are over 21. If not over 21 then to the daughters if they are over 21. If all children are under age or if there are no children, then the right to dispose of the remains passes to the surviving relatives in the order of their relationship, father, mother, brothers, sisters, etc. If the deceased was not married, then the decision rests first with the father, then mother, then brothers and sisters over 21 and if there are none, then the right passes along to other relatives.

Questions and Answers

Q. I know of a lady who served as a WAVE in the navy and her husband also served in the navy. I am told they are drawing $100 a month each and will draw this for a year. I have a son in the navy and he will be discharged in July. Is there any such law granting this amount to servicemen? If so how can my son obtain this? Do they have to be unemployed or self-employed? Is it based on time spent in service or rating?—Mrs. D. W. M., Cabool, Mo.

A. The WAVE and her husband, both veterans, possibly are drawing readjustment allowance checks amounting up to $100 per month each for self-employment. The law provides that a veteran who is self-employed in any independent establishment, trade, business, profession or other vocation is eligible for readjustment allowance if his net earnings are less than $100 for the previous calendar months, the amount of the allowance being the difference between his net earnings and $100.

Q. My husband was kept out of the army until the war was over, then he saw he would have to go so he enlisted. Then he tried to get a discharge and they turned it down. Then he enlisted for the regular army on February 18, 1945, knowing he would get out when his 18 months is up. His father is unable to handle the farm properly. He has put in for a discharge and sent in the necessary papers. Do you think he will be discharged?—Mrs. A. B., Stanley, Miss.

A. He likely will get his discharge if his commanding officer thinks his is a hardship case, although since he was turned down once, unless he has new evidence it is not likely that he would be discharged on the same evidence.

Q. My son served in the army for 22 months. He was discharged to take over the farm work which was too strenuous for his father, who was disabled. In other words he was considered of more value to the army for being on the farm than otherwise. Please tell me if he is entitled to any mustering-out pay?—Mrs. B. S., Morganfield, Ky.

A. If the discharge was issued purely on a dependency or hardship case, then he is not entitled to mustering out pay.

Q. My baby was born December 3. My husband was discharged January 3. I sent the birth certificate to the navy department, but haven't heard from them. Where do I write to get my certificate and am I due an allotment for him?—Mrs. E. L. H., Greys, Ky.

A. Since your husband is out of the navy, of course you are not entitled to an allotment. Suggest you write the same place you sent the birth certificate.

Q. My brother has re-enlisted in the army air corps six months ago. Since he has done this my family has not received any allotment checks. My father is very sick and has been in bed for five years. During this time he has been dependent on his son's checks so can you advise me what steps I should take to clear this matter?—Mrs. P. B., Selinsgrove, Pa.

A. Since an allotment to dependent parents is voluntary on the part of the serviceman, would suggest you write your brother and ask if he has applied for an allotment.

Killing Heel Flies With Power Sprays

Cattle Grubs Can Be Eliminated Profitably

By W. J. DRYDEN

The cattle grub and heel fly are different forms of the same insect. Starting in the spring, when it is in the fly form, the heel fly lays eggs in hairs of the animals. These eggs hatch into maggots which work their way through the hide and enter the muscle tissues. During the next nine months they migrate through the internal organs of the cattle and come out along the back.

Cysts are formed and the maggots then turn into grubs about an inch long. In the spring they work their way out of the holes in the hide and fall to the ground. Within a few weeks they turn into heel flies and the yearly cycle repeats itself.

The USDA reports an annual loss of $100,000,000 in milk, meat and leather due to cattle grubs and heel flies.

While the use of a 1 1/4 rotenone dust has proven effective, many will find it advisable to treating cattle with a power spray. For this method either of the following solutions will be effective: 20 pounds rotenone sulphur with 100 gallons water or cube or derris, 10 pounds, sodium lauryl sulfate, 2 ounces added to 100 gallons of water. There are many good commercial preparations on the market.

Know Your Breed Herefords

By W. J. DRYDEN

The grand champion bull at the 1945 National Hereford show, and owned by the Circle M. Hereford ranch, Senatobia, Miss., and illustrated here, will illustrate this remarkable beef type of cattle.

It is distinguished from all other beef breeds by its red body and white face. The white color is found also on the underline, flank, crest, switch, breast and below the knee and hock.

A product of England, they were brought to U. S. in 1817. Herefords are outstanding as hustlers and of utilizing grass very advantageously.

Try New Coccidiosis Chicken Treatments

The use of 1/2 to 1 pound of powdered sulfaguanide to 100 pounds of feed for two to three days is being recommended as a cure for coccidiosis with turkeys and chickens by Missouri station.

The larger dosage, 1 pound to 100 pounds of mash, is recommended for severe outbreaks and when death losses are exceptionally high. The smaller amount is used for less severe outbreaks in the flock.
